

Let sleeping dogs lie

Pets needn't be left behind on your next weekend away, as there's plenty of luxury accommodation happy to host your canine friends during your stay

GETAWAY
1

The Rubens at the Palace

London

161 bedrooms

From £311 per room per night

Located a five-minute walk from the gates of Buckingham Palace (home to a very famous dog lover) this luxury hotel offers ultimate opulence. Check into one of the eight Royal Rooms where the décor has been inspired by great British monarchs. For those with pets in tow, the hotel offers a welcome hamper on arrival as well as a pet concierge service.

Tel: 0207 834 6600; www.rubenshotel.com

Caer Beris Manor

Builth Wells, Powys

23 bedrooms

From £54 per person per night

This Grade II-listed manor was once owned by Lord Swansea who developed the stunning 27-acre grounds in the 1920s. Not only are cats and dogs welcome at the hotel, but there is even space for horses to be kept overnight within the hotel's very own paddock.

Tel: 01982 552 601; www.caerberis.com

GETAWAY
2

Summer Lodge

Evershot, Dorset

24 bedrooms

From £350 per room per night

This elegant country house hotel offers individually decorated rooms with classic furnishings and rich fabrics. Guests to the Grade-II listed building can enjoy the rural setting in an area that featured prominently in Thomas Hardy's novels, before sampling a menu of award-winning food. Those who bring along their trusty hounds can be assured that their canine companion will receive the same level of luxury, with a number of special amenities laid on to make them feel at home.

Tel: 01935 482 000;

www.summerlodgethotel.co.uk

GETAWAY

3

GETAWAY

4

Stonegarthside Hall

Kershopefoot, Cumbria

Sleeps 14

From £1,430 for 7 nights;
short breaks available

Just a mile from the Scottish border, high above the banks of the River Liddel in splendid isolation, is this atmospheric 17th-century hotel. Original stone floors and beamed ceilings are architectural highlights, and on the doorstep, miles to explore with the family dog.

Tel: 0845 090 0194; www.vivat-trust.org

The Pig

Brockenhurst, Hampshire

26 bedrooms

From £205 per room per night

In the heart of the New Forest, The Pig has a charming eclectic feel, with luxuries such as monsoon showers and fully stocked larders. Those who check into the 'Dog House' have a spacious double with an extra room just for your four-legged friend!

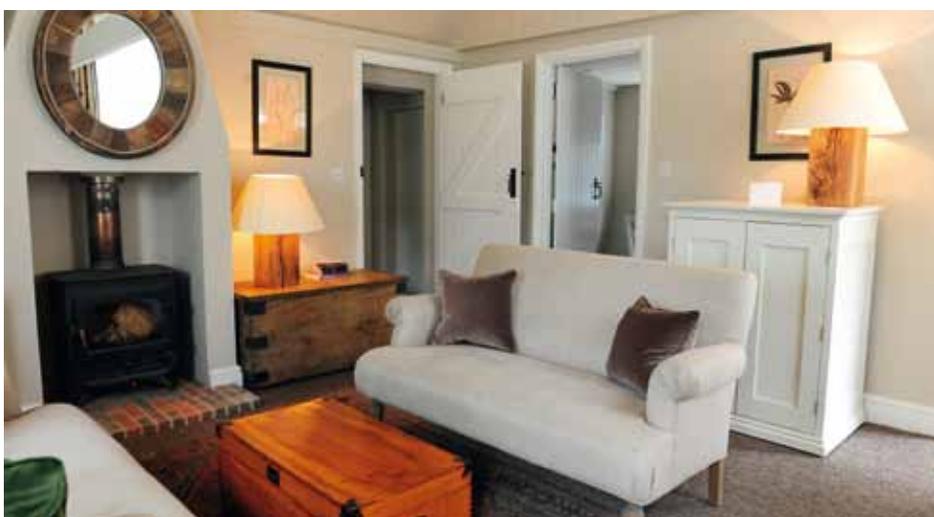

Tel: 0845 0779 494;

www.thepighotel.com

GETAWAY

5

Great Escapes Places to Stay

GETAWAY
6

Trigony House Hotel

Closeburn, Dumfriesshire

10 bedrooms

From £110 per room per night

This picturesque country house hotel is snuggled into secluded gardens surrounded by woodland, and was originally the shooting lodge for Closeburn Castle, which can be seen along a walk leading from the hotel grounds. Inside, the hotel's collection of bedrooms are all individually furnished with views over the gardens and the surrounding hills. The Garden Suite even comes with its own conservatory. Guests arriving with man's best friend will receive a pack containing a map of the best walks in the area and some gourmet dog treats!

Tel: 01848 331 211;

www.trigonyhotel.co.uk

GETAWAY
7

Prince Hall Hotel

Two Bridges, Devon

8 bedrooms + shepherd's hut

From £95 per room per night

This small, family-run hotel is surrounded by farmland in the middle of Dartmoor. With sweeping views of the moors all around, it is the perfect place to bring your four-legged friend. Dog-friendliness extends beyond the guestrooms, into the bar and onto the patio, all at no extra charge. The house itself dates back to the late 1700s and was built for Sir Francis Buller who was the youngest British High Court Judge and the first to send convicts to Australia. Today, guests can enjoy a home-from-home stay, complete with locally-sourced fare served in the restaurant.

Tel. 01822 890 403; www.princehall.co.uk

Grove Farmhouse

Condover, Nr Shrewsbury, Shropshire

Sleeps 16

From £65 per night

This five-star luxury accommodation in the heart of Shropshire offers great flexibility for guests seeking a country getaway. Idyllic countryside is on the doorstep, perfect for long walks with your beloved pooch before returning to your self-catering suite housed within beautifully converted farm buildings. Just ask for Grove Farm Cottage or the Chestnut Suite when booking a stay with your pet. Suites have their own private courtyard gardens, ideal for al fresco dining, with an additional sense of privacy. If preparing your own breakfast doesn't appeal, just pop across to the main house each morning for the full English experience!

Tel: 01743 718 544; www.grovefarmhouse.com

GETAWAY
8